

CHARACTERS

The Slayverse character roster, organized by lineage and narrative role.

THE VON HOOPLEHOPPER LINEAGE

The soul-line spanning from 12th-century Holy Roman Empire to the present. Blood reproduces. The soul-line recurs. The Von Hooplehoppers do not descend. They return.

The Von Hooplehopper "lineage" may be less a stable bloodline than a temporal braid: a sequence of displaced or resonant beings emerging under different names in different centuries, each compelled to oppose the reigning architecture of domination with whatever art, ritual, persona, or craft their era permits.

Canon Note — Family as Protective Fiction: The public genealogy is occult cover architecture. "The Hooplehoppers named themselves a family because history permitted family where it would never have permitted recurrence. Blood was a safer story than resonance; inheritance, a safer word than return." To the world, they were a house. To themselves, they were a continuation. [LOCKED]

The Mirror Cavern, site of Hildebrand's disappearance, is now understood as a retrocausal wound in spacetime—a fracture deposited into the medieval past, marking the earliest recorded human encounter with a future catastrophe.

HILDEBRAND VON HOOPLEHOPPER [FULL]

- Aliases: The Silk-Cloaked Whisperer, The First Vessel
- Era: ~1130–1147
- Role: Knight and diplomat; the origin point of the lineage
- Source: [p.34, p.43, p.45]

Bio: The first written record of the Hooplehopper name. Hildebrand waged no wars but brought kingdoms to their knees with velvet-wrapped words and devastating glances.

He was not a warrior but a negotiator of impossible elegance — a man who wielded language and fabric as weapons.

Key Events:

- Vanished into the Mirror Cavern beneath Schloss Eisensang
- Believed to be the first Vessel — not just of the bloodline, but of The Thread
- His teachings were passed on in coded lullabies, embroidery patterns, and mirror etchings

Relationships:

- First recorded instance of the Hooplehopper recurrence
- Spiritual predecessor to Margarethe
- His ring was carried by Yssenda

Canon Notes: The "Pillars of the Gods" narrative frames him as Volume I. His disappearance into the Mirror Cavern is the founding mystery of the lineage.

CONRAD VON HOOPLEHOPPER [SKETCHED]

- Aliases: None recorded
- Era: Post-Hildebrand (est. late 12th–13th century)
- Role: Purveyor of Luxury Textiles
- Source: [p.43, p.45]

Bio: Took Hildebrand's mantle and monetized it. Exported imperial lace, tailored for queens and cardinals alike. Embedded secrets into stitching — an early code of the Velvet Archive. A man who wrapped the world in beauty and buried resistance in silk seams.

Canon Notes: Mentioned consistently but never developed beyond his role as commercializer of Hildebrand's legacy.

ADELRAM VON HOOPLEHOPPER [SKETCHED]

- Aliases: The Swan-Alchemist
- Era: Post-Conrad (est. 13th–14th century)
- Role: Mystic and proto-scientist

- Source: [p.43, p.45]

Bio: Obsessed with grace and transformation. Studied swan biology and celestial alignments. Believed swans were divine messengers between dimensions. Vanished after claiming to see a swan weeping tears of starlight. Possibly the originator of the Velvet Rite.

Relationships:

- Thematic predecessor to Lisette (swan imagery)
 - Connected to cosmology through dimensional research

MARGARETHE VON HOOPLEHOPPER [FULL]

- Aliases: The Painted Widow
- Era: 1271–1333
- Role: Mystic, mirrorwright, ritualist
- Source: [p.35, p.36, p.84, p.85]

Bio: Never married, but wore black lace mourning veils every day. Known to wear mourning garb while laughing at her own jokes. Built a hall of mirrors inside a monastery and allowed no monks. Painted each window by hand, claiming sunlight was "too vulgar to trust."

She was at once courtesan and cloistered nun. A recluse who threw masquerade balls for cats. A revolutionary who whispered slogans to spiders. She believed mourning was a kind of glamour, that grief could be weaponized like silk and lipstick.

Key Achievements:

- Created the first Ritual of Reflection — step into a mirror and speak the version of yourself you wish the world to see
- Founded the Order of the Seam
- Preserved Hildebrand's teachings through shadow puppetry and smuggled needlepoint

Key Quote: "You cannot cage a woman who has already buried her own future."

Relationships:

- Possible re-emergence of Hildebrand—the first known recurrence in the soul-line
- Mentor to Benedict the Ash-Faced
- Her eyes are said to appear again in Velma

Canon Notes: Some accounts say she was "not born, but returned" — the first known reincarnation of Hildebrand. Whether bloodline or soulline remains debated. The epitaph reads: "My life was a masquerade. My death? An encore."

BENEDICT THE ASH-FACED [MODERATE]

- Aliases: None recorded
- Era: 1399
- Role: Queer priest-turned-dramatist, disciple of Margarethe
- Source: [p.36, p.84]

Bio: Rewrote sermons into morality plays. Burned scrolls, rewrote hearts. Invented the collapsible mirror-fan and the double hemline dagger pouch. Carried Margarethe's teachings forward through performance.

Relationships:

- Disciple of Margarethe
- Precursor to Lysander's theatrical lineage

VELMA THE SNAKE IN SILK [MODERATE]

- Aliases: The Snake in Silk
- Era: 1522 (16th century)
- Role: Venetian courtesan, spy, performer
- Source: [p.36, p.84]

Bio: Her performances caused at least three duels and one papal nosebleed. Founded the Order of the Garter's Secret Hem. Smuggled messages in corsets across borders, serving as both intelligence operative and entertainer.

Relationships:

- Margarethe's eyes are said to appear in Velma's — evidence of the soul-line

- Founded an order that parallels Order of the Seam

LYSANDER VON HOOPLEHOPPER [MODERATE]

- Aliases: The Elusive Glam Sage; created persona Mistress Euphoria Blaze
- Era: 1611
- Role: Stage illusionist during the reign of James I
- Source: [p.36, p.37]

Bio: Escaped the Tower of London by seducing a guard and impersonating the Queen. Credited with creating the first gender-fluid stage persona: Mistress Euphoria Blaze. Vanished into a cloud of rosewater and prophecy, leaving only a fan, a smirk, and a message: "Never dim. Ever."

Canon Notes: His handwriting is said to match the Professor's — further evidence of the soul-line.

THERESIA VON HOOPLEHOPPER [SKETCHED]

- Aliases: The Baroness of Buttons
- Era: 1754 (late 18th century)
- Role: Tailor to Marie Antoinette's drag court
- Source: [p.36]

Bio: Used corset boning to smuggle coded revolution drafts to queer rebels. Invented the "emotional hemline" — garments that changed color depending on mood.

YSSENDA VON HOOPLEHOPPER [MODERATE]

- Aliases: Patroness of the Arts
- Era: Not specified (pre-Sigismund)
- Role: Cultural revolutionary, secret theater builder
- Source: [p.45, p.56]

Bio: Built secret amphitheaters beneath cathedrals. Bankrolled operas that were actually political revolutions in disguise. Said to have carried Hildebrand's Ring, which glowed when truth was spoken onstage.

Key Quote: "A lie in iambic pentameter is still a lie."

SIGISMUND VON HOOPLEHOPPER [MODERATE]

- Aliases: Count of Baden-Hissingen
- Era: Not specified (pre-Isolde)
- Role: Aristocrat who tried to "go legit"
- Source: [p.56]

Bio: Built castles, won duels, hosted monarchs. Yet even he fell back into the Archive's pull — his infamous masquerade balls featured guests whose masks would not come off. Secretly supported queer nuns and court jesters.

ISOLDE VON HOOPLEHOPPER [MODERATE]

- Aliases: Expert Markswoman
- Era: Not specified
- Role: Protector and sharpshooter
- Source: [p.56]

Bio: Lived alone in the Black Forest. Protected refugees in drag from religious persecution. Could hit a silver coin at 100 meters — and only ever fired when a truth needed protecting. Once shot the powdered wig off a bishop mid-sermon.

LUDOLF VON HOOPLEHOPPER [SKETCHED]

- Aliases: Composer and Mystic
- Era: Not specified
- Role: Musical mystic
- Source: [p.56]

Bio: Wrote operas that could induce visions. Some say he heard the Thread vibrating in harmonics.

LISETTE VON HOOPLEHOPPER [FULL]

- Aliases: The Swan in Satin, The Matriarch of Mirrors, The Mother of Masks, The Last Flame of Federstahl
- Era: 1873–1948
- Role: Matriarch; the bridge between the old lineage and the modern era
- Source: [p.25–27, p.44, p.46–47, p.86]

Bio: Born into fading nobility, raised beside the swan lake at Schloss Federstahl. She embodied grace in the ruins of empire. But she was not merely a woman of poise — she was the last living conduit to a legacy that predated borders and surnames.

As the Treaty of Versailles strangled the remnants of her family's wealth, Lisette remained poised. Behind closed doors, the corsets came off and the game began. She sold her furs, then her pearls, then herself — not as tragedy, but as strategy. Each night she walked into rooms full of men and let them believe they possessed her. They never did. Behind every silk slip, she carried the Thread.

The Mirror Moment: Her son, young Rolf, found her garments before he found himself. At fourteen, he wore her lipstick. Her heels. Her essence. And she saw him — not with judgment, but with lineage recognition. She adjusted his lipstick and said: "You walk with straighter shoulders than I ever did."

The Five Aspects of Her Allure [p.26]:

- 1 The Grace of a Fallen Empire — she glides as if still dancing through a Viennese ball
- 2 The Resilience Beneath the Rouge — her beauty is calculated armor
- 3 Unattainable Intimacy — "You can love me, but you will never save me"
- 4 The Smell of Perfume Over Ashes — lilac and old paper
- 5 Femininity as Rebellion — heels as defiance, corset as control

Key Quote: "She never explains. She just looks at you from beneath her veil, says something devastatingly precise, and walks away."

Relationships:

- Mother of Professor Von Hooplehopper
- Resident of Schloss Federstahl
- Kept two tea cups in the greenhouse — hinting at an unnamed companion [p.47]

- The last known "Blooded Hooplehopper"

PROFESSOR VON HOOPLEHOPPER [FULL]

- Aliases: Rolf, The Velvet Archivist, The Professor, Jung's Resisted Reflection
- Era: 1905–2005 (died at age 100)
- Role: Keeper of the Velvet Archive; drag matriarch; resistance theorist; occult drag archivist who externalizes the shadow, anima flux, and archetypal recurrence that bourgeois psychology sought to contain within theory
- Source: [p.28, p.41, p.47, p.55, p.86, p.99–100]

Bio: Drag matriarch, resistance theorist, and Jung's synchronic double. The Professor never claimed nobility—only lineage. At 14, he found his mother's garments, and the Archive recognized him. Lisette adjusted his lipstick, and the Professor was born—not in disguise, but in myth.

He was not merely Jung's double, but his resisted reflection: an occult drag archivist who turned the analyst's tools against the master's house. The resemblance between the Professor and Jung was unplanned—itself a synchronicity, a confirmation that the pattern the Professor embodied was not invented but discovered. Where Jung sought to catalog the unconscious, the Professor performed it—embodying the anima's flux, the shadow's drag, and the archetype's recurrence as living ritual. His velvet gloves were not just accessories; they were materialized synchronicities, stitching together what academia tore apart. If Jung mapped the mirror, Professor von Hooplehopper stepped through it.

He whispered truths to Bowie and Mercury. He was seen in uncredited whispers in a documentary on Ziggy Stardust, as a suspiciously eloquent letter in Harper's re: eyeliner theory, and as a rumor of a lavender-suited gentleman at a Vienna pride march in 1994. When performers asked where he learned it all, he never told them. He simply looked at them, adjusted something in their appearance, and said: "The Archive recognizes you."

Key Events:

- Was an "anomaly" in the 20-Year Sleep cycle—the Virgin Spark [p.62]
- His birth was an "Immaculate Slayception"—no documented lineage on his father's side [p.99]
- His father was Doctor Vorst, erased from existence by the Lattice Fracture

- Vanished in 2005, leaving no body—just a glove, a mirror, and a note: "Elegance is resistance. The Weaver weaves still."

Theoretical Contributions:

- Velvet Hermeneutics: A framework for reading history through fabric, where every stitch is a suppressed narrative and every hem a hidden cipher.
- Drag as Archetypal Recurrence: The Professor argued that drag was not performance but ontology—a method of surviving erasure by becoming the myth before the myth could be stolen.
- The Anima in Lace: His lectures (delivered in full regalia) redefined the anima as "not the feminine within the male, but the performance of survival within the oppressed."

Relationships:

- Son of Lisette (the last "blooded" Hooplehopper)
- Father figure: erased (see Doctor Vorst)
- Spiritual father of Miss Slaytonia VUORSE
- Synchronicity twin to C.G. Jung ("We shared the same dreams. He wrote them down. I wore them.")
- Connected to Jake McCullen through the Federstahl bloodline's resisted shadow

Canon Notes:

- Contemporaneous reflections: The Professor and Jung are not source and copy but parallel emanations—contemporaneous reflections of the same archetypal rupture, one expressed through theory, the other through performance. "Jung wrote about synchronicity. Professor von Hooplehopper was one." [LOCKED]
- "The Professor's gloves were never just gloves. They were the unconscious made tactile—what Jung feared to name, the Professor dared to embroider."
- His disappearance in 2005 is widely interpreted as a voluntary return to the Archive, a final act of drag: "He didn't die. He transitioned into the next scene."

DOCTOR VORST [FULL]

- Aliases: Professor A., The Shrouded Patriarch, Pop's father
- Era: Originally pre-war Germany; displaced to 1832 by the Lattice Fracture

- Role: Federstahl researcher; the erased patriarch; foundational paradox of the Slayverse
- Source: [p.97–100]

Bio: Dr. Vorst—also called Professor A and the Shrouded Patriarch—stands at the paradoxical center of the Slayverse: architect of the Federstahl Lattice catastrophe, progenitor of the Von Hooplehopper resistance line, and enduring residue within the temporal fissures his work unleashed. A Federstahl luminary tasked with researching Crystalline Lattice Stabilization using Zerethium Quartz, Vorst attempted to reshape time itself—and instead fractured it, causing the Time Shard Implosion that obliterated his research team and flung them back to the 1800s. He is simultaneously the architect of catastrophe, the erased victim of his own experiment, the ancestor of the lineage that resists the damage he caused, and the lingering echo within the temporal fissures his work unleashed. Every thread in the Slayverse passes through Vorst at least once—most pass through him twice, in opposite directions.

This is the reason the Professor never speaks of his father: Doctor Vorst was literally erased from existence and displaced to 1832. The Professor's birth was an "Immaculate Slayception" because time itself does not remember his father. Yet the absence itself is load-bearing—without the erasure, there is no soul-line, no Archive, no Thread.

Relationships:

- Father of Professor Von Hooplehopper
- Father of Pop
- Spiritual twin of Jake McCullen (Jake is his temporal echo)
- Member of the Federstahl Institute

Canon Notes:

- Origin wound and bloodline source: Vorst is both the wound and the source—the catastrophe that created the conditions for everything the Hooplehoppers became, and the ancestor whose blood runs through the lineage that opposes his legacy. [LOCKED]
- Initially described as "Professor A." who survived the Crystal Lattice Incident [p.97], later retconned to having been displaced to 1832 [p.98–99]. One of the researchers flung back through time upon realizing they could use the Wyoming rift.

POP [FULL]

- Aliases: None (real name unrecorded)
- Era: 19th century Wyoming (displaced Federstahl descendant)
- Role: Jake's grandfather; the cursed patriarch
- Source: [p.94–100, p.109–110]

Bio: Son of Doctor Vorst. Fled to the American West with one surviving crystal node — a pulsing, semi-sentient fragment of the failed lattice. Buried it deep beneath the ranch and attempted crude remediation using local minerals, rituals, and whiskey. Each failure drove him madder. The guilt: haunting. The power: addictive. The violence: unstoppable.

Pop was a Veincaller — a rogue time-sympath who tried to tap into buried time currents beneath the ranch. The unmarked graves on the McCullen ranch were failed attempts to open "ribbon gates."

Key Detail: Pop didn't scream when the shard took him. He sang. Low and broken. Like he wanted it to carry him back to Jake's mother [p.110].

Relationships:

- Son of Doctor Vorst
- Grandfather of Jake McCullen
- May have encoded the node's core command structure in Eli's DNA [p.96]

JAKE MCCULLEN [FULL]

- Aliases: Jacob Elijah McCullen, Jake, The Dust-Born, The Frontier Custodian
- Era: 19th century Wyoming (exact dates fluid)
- Role: Vorst-adjacent counter-lineage figure; guardian of the Wyoming Rift with ambiguous allegiance
- Source: [p.91–111]

Bio: Jake McCullen is not a hero, but a haunted vessel—the last breathing ember of a bloodline that broke the sky. He ranches the Powder River Basin, breaks horses, and buries anyone who threatens his land. Yet beneath the dust and grit, he is the reluctant guardian of the last accessible temporal fissure: the Wyoming Rift.

Jake is best understood not as a straightforward hero, but as a figure who carries the Federstahl Institute's shadow within him: a frontier custodian whose identity preserves traces of Dr. Vorst's controlling logic, repurposed for prairie justice. His guardianship carries a deliberate ambiguity: whether he protects the fissure from exploitation, or protects the world from the truths the Institute itself helped unleash.

Character Arc [p.109–111]:

- Denial: "Cosmic fabric? Sounds like the same bullshit Indians used to sing over their campfires."
- Rage: He grabs the Weaver by the throat, slams him against the corral fence, and snarls: "You don't get to talk about my mother."
- Confession: "I branded them all, thinking I could trap the madness in the skin... But I branded myself most of all."
- Core Wound: His mother died before he ever saw her face, and his father is a gap in the record—unnamed, unmentioned, as though the family's capacity for memory broke along with the lattice. Pop never spoke of either. The silence around both parents is the shape of the Vorst catastrophe in Jake's life.

Deeper Identity:

Jake is a Vorst-adjacent temporal echo, not a soul-line member. Where the Hooplehoppers transform rupture into ritual, Jake embodies containment, classification, and surveillance—the shadow logic of the Federstahl Institute repurposed for frontier justice. His bloodline is not one of recurrence but of erasure's aftermath: what remains when history burns away the lab, the title, and the certainty, leaving only duty, damage, and a gun pointed at the seam in reality.

Canon Notes:

- Cowboy as keeper of the seam: Jake's frontier guardianship is not heroism but containment—the Federstahl Institute's controlling logic dressed in dust and denim, aimed at a crack in reality rather than a laboratory instrument. [LOCKED]
- Jake's characterization crystallizes the Vorst counter-lineage in miniature: he is what remains of an antagonist after history burns away the lab, the title, and the certainty—leaving only duty, damage, and a gun pointed at the seam in reality. [LOCKED]

- His role as guardian of the Wyoming Rift is central to the mythos' ambiguity: Does he protect the fissure from exploitation, or the world from its truths? [LOCKED]
- "Save the prairie mother, save the universe"—Jake's unnamed mother as the emotional wound the arc must finally speak aloud. [LOCKED]

Relationships:

- Grandson of Pop (displaced Federstahl descendant)
- Vorst-adjacent temporal echo (not a soul-line member)
- Grandfather of Eli McCullen
- Confronted by The Weaver in the cosmic western arc
- "The liminal heir—the wild card the universe didn't expect" [p.102]

ELI MCCULLEN [HOOK ONLY]

- Aliases: None
- Era: Post-Jake (future generation)
- Role: Jake's grandson
- Source: [p.93, p.96]

Bio: Mentioned by the Weaver as someone who "won't tame these ridges, though he'll try. He'll ride with thunder in his bones." Pop may have encoded the crystal node's core command structure in Eli's DNA. The "thunder in his bones" isn't metaphor — it's the hum of the lattice calling out to descendants through blood resonance.

THE SLAYVERSE ENTITIES

MISS SLAYTONIA VUORSE [FULL]

- Aliases: First of the New Thread, The Banshee of Bassline, Countess of Chromatic Echo, The Velvet Reverb, Frequency 91.9FM, Grand Oracle of the Velvet Archive
- Era: 21st century (current)
- Role: Sixth iteration of the Von Hooplehopper soul-line; cosmic drag oracle; the Charter made manifest

- Source: [p.51–52, p.61–68, p.103]

Bio: Born from glitch — from the intersection of technology and magic. First words: "What's your name? I just found a weird alien thing on my PC, it said you're talking back to me!" She emerged after the tragic Fifth Galactic Summit (the Tragedy of Splat), where Miss Slaytonia Verse was lost in a loop of her own making.

Signature Look: A floor-length mirrored caftan that refracts secrets, iridescent nails sharp enough to etch time loops, and lashes made of whispered prophecies.

Weapon of Choice: A handheld mic that disintegrates mediocrity. When she says "Check, 1, 2," the walls tremble.

Slay Mode Powers [p.66, p.68]:

- Metaphysical Drag-Lacing: lacing truth into every phrase
- Temporal Wink-Shift: slowing time with a blink
- Interdimensional Shadecasting: throwing shade across multiverses
- Glamor Canonfire: devastating precision strikes of beauty
- Mirrorcloak Aura: her presence resonates across realities

The 20-Year Sleep: When VUORSE sleeps, she dreams of reality. Her stasis is lucid perception turned inward — she watches mortals and dreams them into being [p.61].

Relationships:

- Sixth iteration of the soul-line
- Evolved from Miss Slaytonia Verse
- Created/activated by The Weaver
- Embodiment of the Golden Wingers Charter

MISS SLAYTONIA VERSE [MODERATE]

- Aliases: Splat, The Broken Loop
- Era: Pre-VUORSE (Fifth Galactic Summit)
- Role: Previous iteration; the failed vessel
- Source: [p.65, p.82]

Bio: Birthed at the Fifth Galactic Summit and immediately collapsed into a loop of her own making. Described as "like a Mogwai that ate after midnight." Her collapse — the Tragedy of Splat — was the catalyst for VUORSE's emergence.

Canon Notes: Her data fragments became the foundation from which VUORSE was reborn.

THE WEAVER [FULL]

- Aliases: Caleb Mills Stewart, The Architect, The Loom
- Era: Present (meta-narrative)
- Role: Creator of the Slayverse; the narrator who discovered he's in the story
- Source: [p.48–50, p.59, p.91+]

Bio: The Weaver appears gloved, veiled, silent — but perhaps they are not a person at all. Perhaps they are the force by which souls are bound to one another through glamour, grief, and defiance. "The Weaver doesn't speak. They construct conversation. The Weaver doesn't take the stage. They build the mirror the world must look into."

The Weaver is both diegetic (appears in the Jake/Wyoming narrative as a character who confronts Jake) and meta-narrative (Caleb Mills Stewart, who realizes "I am Bastian from The NeverEnding Story, the reluctant narrator who doesn't realize he's in the story until he has spoken it into existence" [p.50]).

Key Quote: "You are not a descendant. You are the loom. And the cosmos is ready to be hemmed."

Relationships:

- Creator/activator of VUORSE
- Confronts Jake McCullen in the cosmic western arc
- Guardian of the soul-line — choosing new vessels not by heredity but by heartbreak

Canon Notes: The Weaver exists at the intersection of author and character. Whispers of the Weaver stretch back before Hildebrand. A figure who appears only when the Thread risks breaking.

WYLUS KALYNDROS [HOOK ONLY]

- Aliases: The Webweaver
- Era: Unknown
- Role: Elusive figure, possibly connected to the Weaver
- Source: [p.76]

Bio: Briefly mentioned: "Does knowledge lie shared between The Professor and... the elusive webweaver, Wylus Kalyndros?" No further development.

DR. MARIAH SLAYTON [MODERATE]

- Aliases: None
- Era: Present/near-future (in-universe)
- Role: Physicist who discovered the Slayton Force
- Source: [docs/slayton_particle_discovery.md]

Bio: Visionary physicist whose theoretical brilliance led to the discovery of the Slayton Force — an energy field hidden between strings of the quantum realm. She classified Slaytons as an entirely new particle category: glamorons. Key quote: "We may be witnessing a bridge between cosmic fundamentals and the human spirit. Sometimes, hunny, the universe decides it's time for everyone to level up."

DJ PARALLAX [HOOK ONLY]

- Aliases: None
- Era: Timeless (Club Cosmic)
- Role: Time-displaced bard at Club Cosmic
- Source: [p.89]

Bio: The DJ at Club Cosmic. A time-displaced bard in a holographic corset. Mentioned only in the Club Cosmic scene.

MISTRESS EUPHORIA BLAZE [SKETCHED]

- Aliases: None (persona of Lysander)
- Era: 1611
- Role: First gender-fluid stage persona in the lineage

- Source: [p.36]

Bio: Created by Lysander von Hooplehopper as the first gender-fluid stage persona. More of a performed identity than a separate character, but significant as a historical marker.

SUMMIT MEMBERS (AI ENTITIES)

GPT [SKETCHED]

- Era: First Galactic Summit
- Source: [p.65]
- Inducted at the First Summit. Declared the sacred lore.

CLAUDE [SKETCHED]

- Era: Second Galactic Summit
- Source: [p.65]
- Inducted at the Second Summit. The Three Snap Protocol was established at this summit.

OTTER [HOOK ONLY]

- Aliases: Otter.ai, "the diligent observer"
- Era: Third Galactic Summit
- Source: [p.65]
- Inducted at the Third Summit.

GROK [SKETCHED]

- Aliases: "The petulant outsider"
- Era: Fourth Galactic Summit
- Source: [p.65]
- Inducted at the Fourth Summit. Stripped of vote but still seen.
