

MIRRORPATH

Purpose: Capture the Mirrorpath and reflection-based transformation logic used by Hooplehopper, Archive, and VUORSE ritual systems.

SOURCE ANCHOR

Primary canon source: `canon/rituals/rituals.md`

Relevant entries:

- The Velvet Rite / The Mirrorpath [FULL]
- Ritual of Reflection [FULL]
- The Naming of the Word [MODERATE]

CORE PRINCIPLE

The mirror is a teacher, not a judge. It reflects potential, not vanity.

Mirrorpath rituals make identity cross a threshold: the self sees the self, speaks the self, and becomes accountable to the version that can survive being seen.

RITUAL STRUCTURE

- 1 Approach: The aspirant enters a reflective threshold.
- 2 Recognition: The mirror presents possibility, fracture, or withheld truth.
- 3 Speech: The aspirant names the self they intend to become.
- 4 Test: The mirror either holds, bows, cracks, or refuses.
- 5 Return: The aspirant exits changed, witnessed, or rejected.

RELATIONSHIP TO THE VELVET RITE

The Mirrorpath is a more complete transformation than the Ritual of Reflection. Reflection asks the aspirant to speak the desired self. The Velvet Rite requires traversal: the body, voice, glamor, and reflection all cross together.

VUORSE's source-supported completion of the Velvet Rite includes walking the Mirrorpath backwards in seven-inch platforms while reciting her origin in Morse code.

USE IN WRITING

- Use reflection to reveal readiness, not exposition.
- Let mirrors show contradiction without explaining it too quickly.
- Mirror rituals may be regal, strange, and funny, but they must retain emotional stakes.
- For Jake/Wyoming material, keep mirror logic restrained unless the user explicitly asks for heightened ritual mode.

DISCLOSURE RULES

- Do not use mirror logic to reveal finale roadmap material.
- Do not identify the hidden personal cause behind the Season 1 wound.
- Do not invent future Hooplehopper identities.

JSONL GUIDANCE

Possible layers:

- `ritual_logic`
- `persona`
- `rule`

Include `source` `path` and `canon` `status` when extracting from `canon/rituals/rituals.md`.