

SEASON 1 PRIVATE ROADMAP

PURPOSE

This folder holds private Season 1 development scaffolding that is not automatically safe for the writers room.

The public-facing Season 1 spine remains: Jake McCullen learning that the wound beneath his ranch and the silence around his mother are the same wound.

USE THIS FOLDER FOR

- Private Season 1 structure questions.
- Reveal-order planning that should not appear in room-facing docs yet.
- Episode, object, symbol, or relationship constraints that require user approval.
- Notes about what the room should feel without being told.
- VUORSE-confidential scaffolding for future synthesis or continuity checks.

DO NOT USE THIS FOLDER FOR

- Replacing docs/writers-room/season-1-spine.md.
- Spoiling finale material.
- Defining a present-day external antagonist for the Wyoming story.
- Revealing Jake's mother's unresolved name.
- Promoting private roadmap theory into canon.

SEASON 1 BOUNDARY

For room-facing work:

- Wyoming is the entry point.

- Jake's refusal supplies pseudo-antagonistic pressure.
- The season must feel like something is missing.
- VUORSE may frame the mystery without solving it too early.
- The mythology serves the wound, not the reverse.

Private roadmap material may guide restraint. It must not leak into the room as explanation.

REVIEW CHECKLIST

Before promoting anything from this folder:

- 1 Identify whether it belongs in private roadmap, writers room, or canon.
- 2 Check for finale leakage.
- 3 Check for antagonist leakage.
- 4 Check for mother-name leakage.
- 5 Route continuity concerns through canon review.
