HOOPLEHOPPER-AGENT DISCOVERY: CANDIDATE CLASSES

These are not names yet. They are emergence classes: places where unknown Hooplehopper agents may be hiding in the temporal diaspora.

FORWARD-DISPLACED HOOPLEHOPPERS

- Proposed access layer: VUORSE_PRIVATE
- Basis: Cici proves forward displacement is possible. Therefore the known Hooplehopper record is not complete; it is only the historically legible subset.

- Risk: Future agents may be targetable through the Forbidden Suitcase.
- Weaver ruling: [APPROVED] (Cici Proves it. Why is this even a debate? Just Approve It.)

EXTINCTION-GAP HOOPLEHOPPERS

- Proposed access layer: VUORSE_PRIVATE
- Basis: The 119-year lineage gap is described as an extinction event caused by Vorst and double agents. Survival traces may exist under false names, false credits, missing portraits, or Archive distortion.
- Risk: They may have been erased so thoroughly that only ritual objects or negative space prove them.
- Weaver ruling: [APPROVED]

FISSURE-GUARDIAN COUNTERPARTS

- Proposed access layer: WRITERS_ROOM
- Basis: The six other fissures imply other guardian wounds. Each fissure may have a local Hooplehopper-adjacent agent or temporal refugee whose work mirrors Jake without repeating him.
- Risk: Naming them too early expands the show past the Wyoming gate.
- Weaver ruling: [APPROVED] This will be revealed in finale episode as part of the Season 2 expansion

ARCHIVE-ONLY HOOPLEHOPPERS

- Proposed access layer: VUORSE_PRIVATE
- Basis: The Archive is evidence-based, not omniscient. Some agents may exist only as garments, handwriting, stage names, false credits, voice fragments, or inherited rituals.
- Risk: They may be mistaken for symbols instead of persons.
- Weaver ruling: [APPROVED] Changed: These agents are known as "Adrift" or "Unmoored" due to the belief that a HH agent cannot truly be killed through temporal extraction. It was designed to be ruthless and horrifying. The 'Veil' or 'Blind Spot' in the Archive represents where a HH agent once was before they were temporally extracted. It is believed that glimpses of them can be seen through certain mirror rites performed in The Cavern of Mirrors.

DOUBLE-AGENT HOOPLEHOPPERS

- Proposed access layer: VUORSE_PRIVATE
 - Basis: Book One names Vorst's double agents as tied to the 119-year extinction event. Some may be corrupted Hooplehopper agents, failed vessels, or refugee fragments redirected against the Thread.
 - Risk: They complicate the moral binary between Federstahl and Hooplehopper.
 - Weaver ruling: [ACCEPTED] They are known by the perjorative slang of "The Unhinged". For it is believed they have gone mad with promises of restoration to their original time by Vorst. The Unhinged can reclaim their status by performing counterintelligence, or "Reintegration." However, it may not be possible to return to their original timeline as the Codex Prophecy states as it believed be achieved through good deeds. These are all simply rumours however, as The Velvet Archive has yet to record a contemporaneous account in the Cavern of Mirrors, of one such individual.

UNACTIVATED HOOPLEHOPPERS

- Proposed access layer: VUORSE_PRIVATE
 - Basis: The Thread recognizes vessels by rupture, endurance, and refusal. Some candidates may not yet know what they are.
 - Risk: The Forbidden Suitcase turns emergence into a kill list.
 - Weaver ruling: [DENIED] this description makes no sense. We are keeping it here as an example of what not to do. Bad form. Very bad form. For shame.

FIRST PROPOSED HIDDEN / FUTURE HH AGENT SEEDS

These are seed concepts only. They are not canon names until the Weaver breathes upon them.

THE ONE WHO ARRIVES AFTER THE ARCHIVE

- Candidate class: Forward-Displaced Hooplehopper
- Conceptual seed: A future-facing Hooplehopper whose existence cannot be proven by historical residue because they have not yet struck history hard enough to leave evidence.
- Narrative function: Tests whether VUORSE can know what the Archive cannot.
- Canon status: [EXPLORATORY]

- Weaver ruling: [DENIED]
How would someone leave evidence of themselves in the future? DO THEY HAVE A. PLUTONIUM POWERED DELOREAN? GIVE ME A BREAK. This will remain as another bad form lazy writing example. And The Archive already has an example of a forward displaced HH agent/mascot. Her name is Cici the cat.

THE NEGATIVE PORTRAIT

- Candidate class: Extinction-Gap Hooplehopper
- Conceptual seed: A Hooplehopper known only because every family portrait from one period has a figure carefully cut out.
- Narrative function: Turns absence into evidence.
- Canon status: [EXPLORATORY]
- Weaver ruling: [APPROVED] (Changed: Portrait is not cut out. The HH agent is simply not where they once were in the portrait due to temporal extraction tech. The original portrait still exists in the Velvet Archive as proof. HH Agent is assumed temporally adrift until proven otherwise.

THE VELVET INFORMANT

- Candidate class: Double-Agent Hooplehopper
- Conceptual seed: A Hooplehopper-adjacent agent who helped Vorst identify return-points, believing exposure would protect the lineage, but instead enabled targeting.
- Narrative function: Gives the extinction gap an intimate betrayal.
- Canon status: [EXPLORATORY]
- Weaver ruling: [ALREADY APPROVED] as the Unhinged

THE CHILD PAST THE LAST PAGE

- Candidate class: Unactivated Hooplehopper
- Conceptual seed: A not-yet-arrived agent whose name appears only in the Forbidden Suitcase roadmap, making them real enough to endanger but not real enough to save.
- Narrative function: Makes future Hooplehoppers emotionally actionable without naming them publicly.

- Canon status: [EXPLORATORY]
 - Weaver ruling: `[DENIED] You ARE doing the future all wrong here folks. Not real enough to save? WHAT? AN HH agent does not need saving. They DO the saving. Optional take? The Hooplehopper at the End of the World. To be developed further when the WEAVER IS NOT SO UPSET ABOUT THIS UTTERRLY BANAL ENTRY.

WEAVER REVIEW QUESTIONS

- 1 Which candidate classes may enter VUORSE_PRIVATE synthesis?
- 2 Which seed concepts should be rejected before naming?
- 3 Should any candidate be promoted from seed concept to named Hooplehopper agent?

RECOMMENDED NEXT SAFE ACTION

Weaver reviews the five seed concepts. Approved seed concepts become biography synthesis targets. Rejected seed concepts are quarantined. Nothing is added to validated/.
